Blackmail

Blackmail is an act, often a crime, involving unjustified threats to make a gain or cause loss to another unless a demand is met. Essentially, it is coercion involving threats of physical harm, threat of criminal prosecution, or threats for the purposes of taking the person's money or property. It is the name of a statutory offence in the United States of America.

In today's era of technology advances in communications, such as social media, google, yahoo, aol, etc, many people are finding themselves in extremely vulnerable positions due to past or present mistakes posted somewhere online and/or data discovery theft. This information is being used to stop, block or potentially destroy careers and/or families if certain demands are not made.
